Not illustrated. 1839 Excerpt: .more di-tant in the prospect; and when accomplished it does not stand out so prominently to public view as ihe result of their efforts. The effects are remote and not so readily traced to their cause. Here and there in our churches an individual young man is found in possession of piety and talents, but of obscure birth and indigent circumstances. He is sought out by his pastor or some Christian friend, who knows his worth, and encouraged to commence a course of study in preparation for the ministry. He listens to the advice of friends in whose judgment he has confidence, and enters with trembling on the great enterprise. Unable to meet the necessary expenses, he applies to lhe Education Society for assi-tance and places himself under their patronage. The assistance rendered is designed to be no more than is necessary wiliii untiring industry and strict economy on his part to prevent his sinking under disheartening embarrassments, that would paialize the energies of his mind and diive him from the object ol his pursuit. Wilh this he is enabled to overcome obstacles, which would otherwise have been insurmountable, and to pass with credit through the several stages of an education preparatory to the gospel ministry. But hi preparatory course has not been a fntitlesa one. The same de. ire for usefulness, which induced him to prepare for the ministry, inclined him to do good as he had opportunity during his course of preparation. In the...
